THE PROBLEM

Job ads that end in forced scam work

120,000

people in Myanmar may be held in forced online scam work.

OHCHR, via UN News, 29 August 2023

01 Young job seekers from Myanmar, Thailand, Indonesia and the Philippines find work through Facebook, Viber and Telegram.

02 The trap starts with a fee, a passport photo or a car to the border.

03 The warning signs are easy to miss in a second language.

WHO IT IS FOR

Ma Su, 23, Magway Region

A fictional story

Agent K
Viber

Hello sister! Factory job in Mae Sot, Thailand. Salary 18,000 baht per month, free food and room. Send a photo of your passport today to book your seat. A car leaves Myawaddy on Friday night. Only 3 places left. Do not tell other people about this job.

1. Ma Su needs work.
2. A recruiter on Viber offers good pay and a free room in Thailand.
3. The moment of risk: before she pays, sends her passport or gets in the car.

THE SOLUTION

Kakwe in one picture

Verdict with reasons
Low risk, Be careful or High risk, with her own words quoted.

Job Shield
Puts the job ad next to the recruiter's chat.

Screen bubble
A doll over any Android app checks the screen.

Voice companion
Ask Pyit Taing Htaung out loud about the report.

Warn my family
Shares the warning through any chat app.

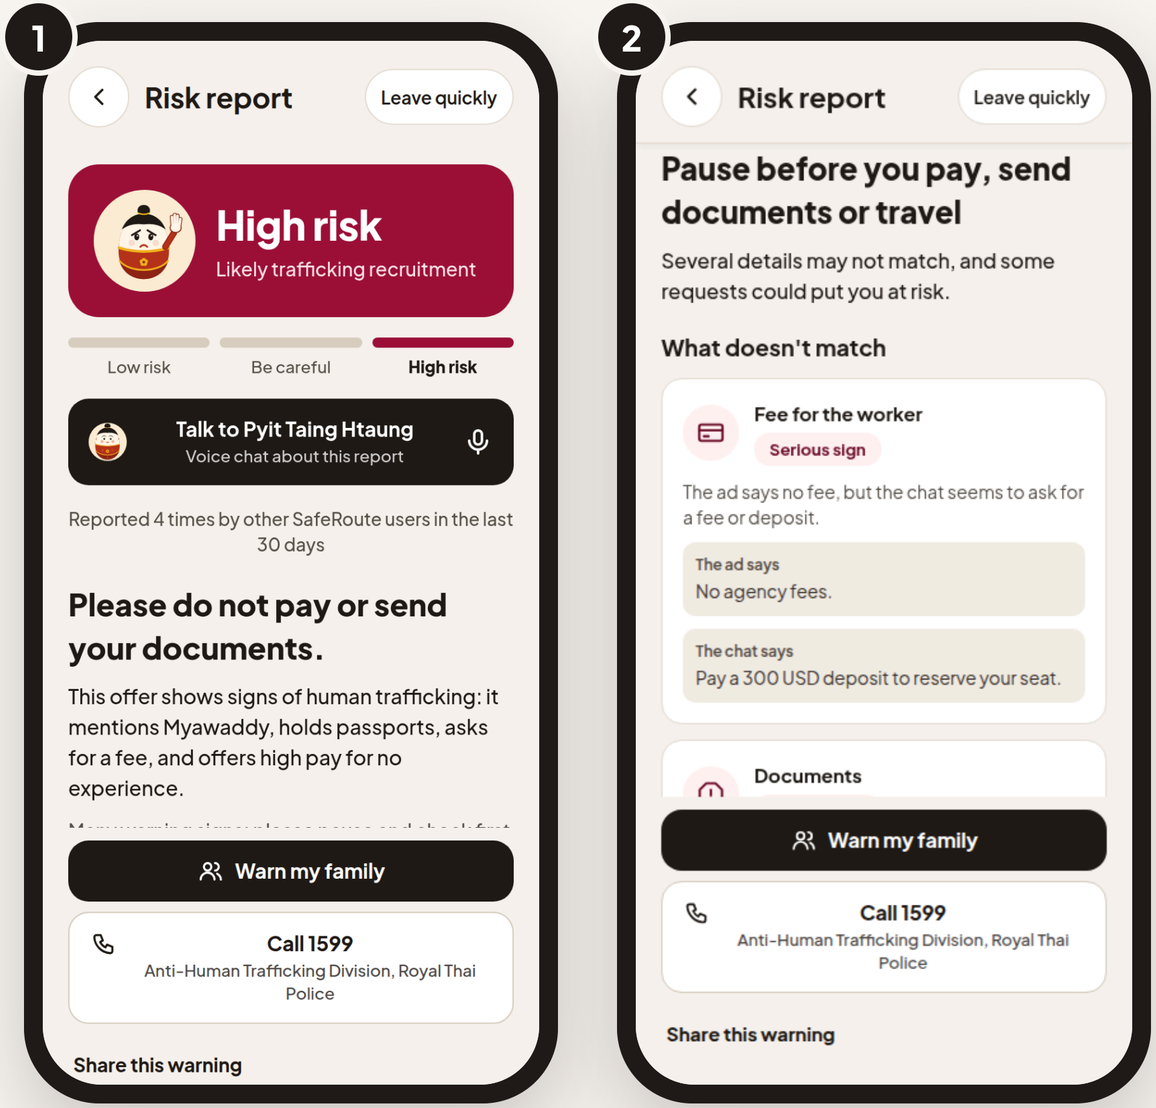

5 languages
English, မြန်မာ, Bahasa Indonesia, Tagalog, ไทย

DEMO

A message in, a verdict out

1. Ma Su pastes the message. High risk: the doll looks worried and the next step comes first.

2. Job Shield reads the ad and the chat. The ad says no fees. The chat asks for a deposit.

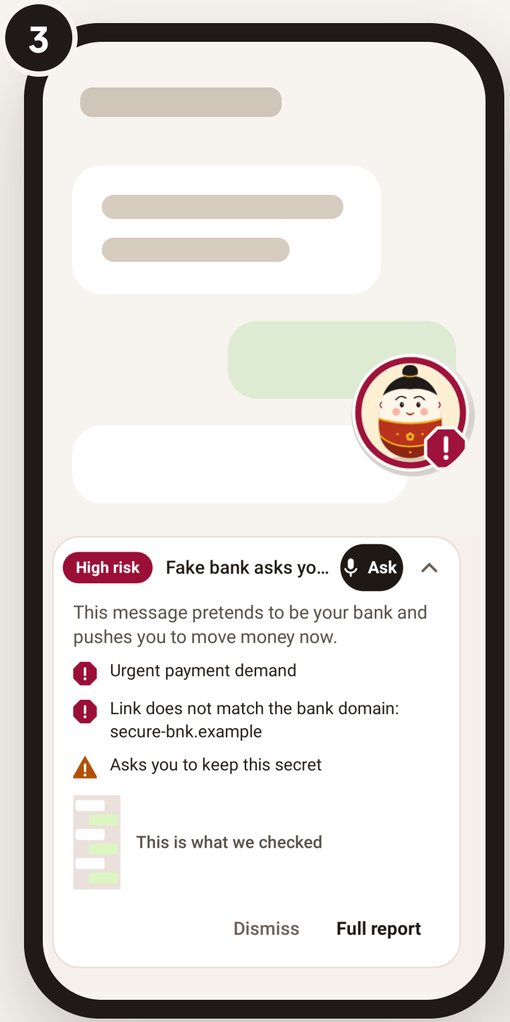

Web build captures with fictional inputs. Screen 2 uses the app's built-in demo data.

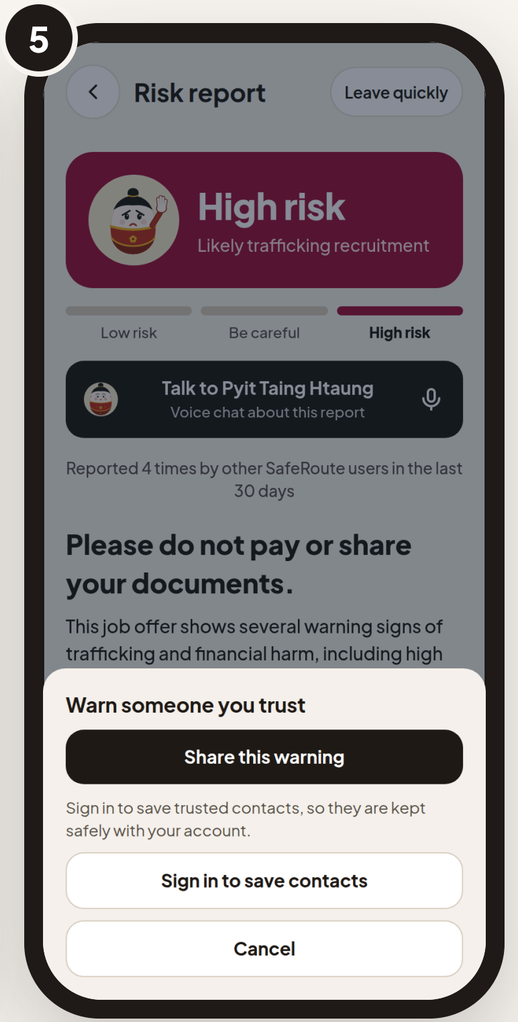

DEMO

Over any app, out loud, to family

3. One tap on the floating doll checks the chat on screen.
4. She asks Pyit Taing Htaung in Burmese, on Gemini Live.
5. Warn my family shares the warning. No account needed.

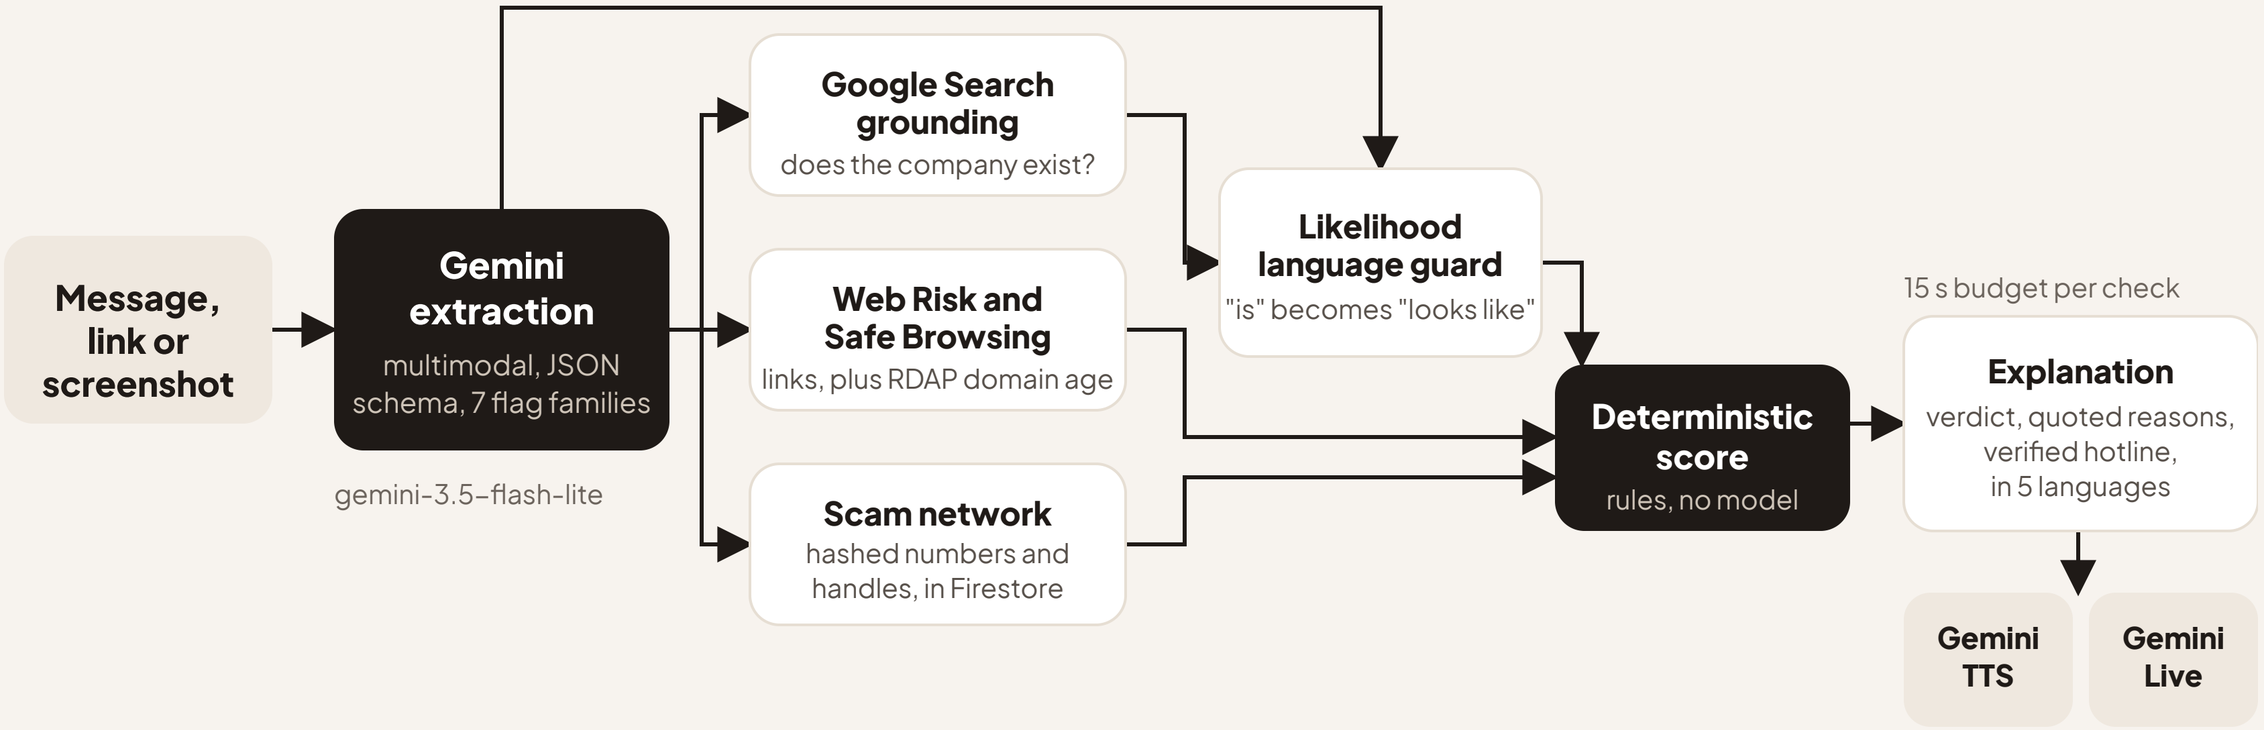

Screen 3: the Android overlay views from the app's snapshot test, on a schematic chat.

HOW IT WORKS

Gemini finds evidence. Rules decide.

FIREBASE

Auth, Firestore, Hosting for the web demo, App Distribution for test builds.

API HOSTING TODAY

A Hono service on our host behind a Cloudflare tunnel. The Cloud Run deploy script is ready and needs billing.

Why Gen AI, and what is new

MULTIMODAL

Reads Burmese screenshots

One Gemini call turns a chat image into quotes, flags and links.

GROUNDING

Search is evidence

Search findings are capped at medium. They never decide alone.

CONTROL

Rules over the model

The model finds evidence. Tested rules set the verdict.

JOB SHIELD

Ad against chat

13 conflict rules, such as "no fees" in the ad and a deposit in the chat.

GEMINI LIVE

Voice grounded in the report

Answers come from the finished report and verified hotlines.

RESPONSIBLE AI

Safety and privacy

Likelihood words
"Shows signs of", never "is a scam".

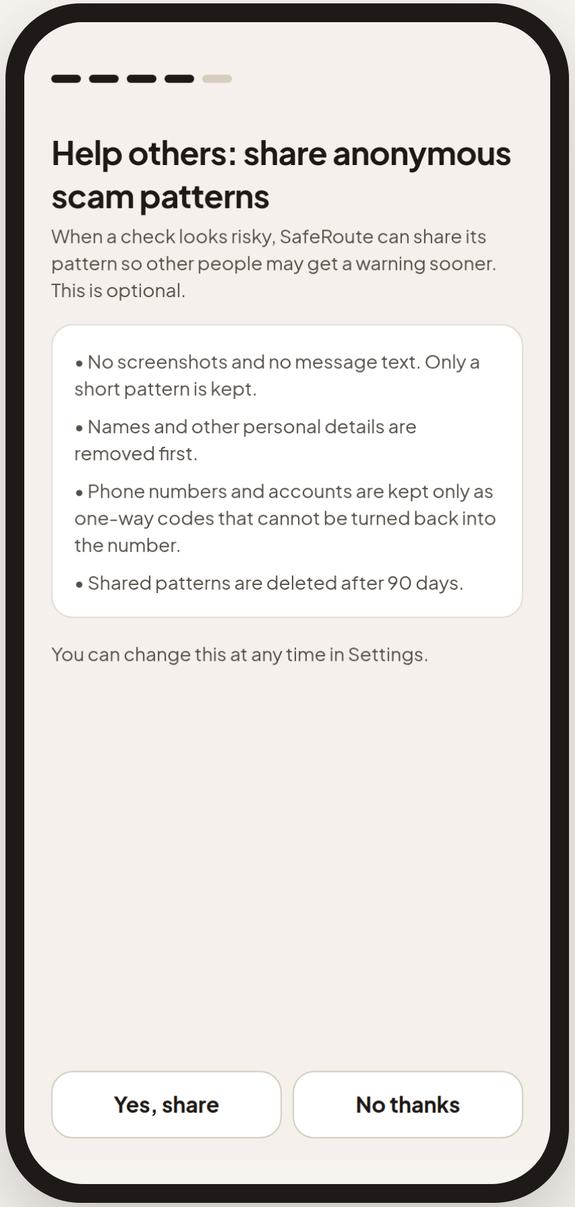

No accusations
No named person is called a criminal.

Consent first
Sharing and Message Guard are off until she turns them on.

Hashed indicators
Numbers and handles stay as one-way hashes for 90 days.

Leave quickly
One tap clears the screen.

Slim sync, 18+
History keeps the verdict and summary only.

USER EXPERIENCE

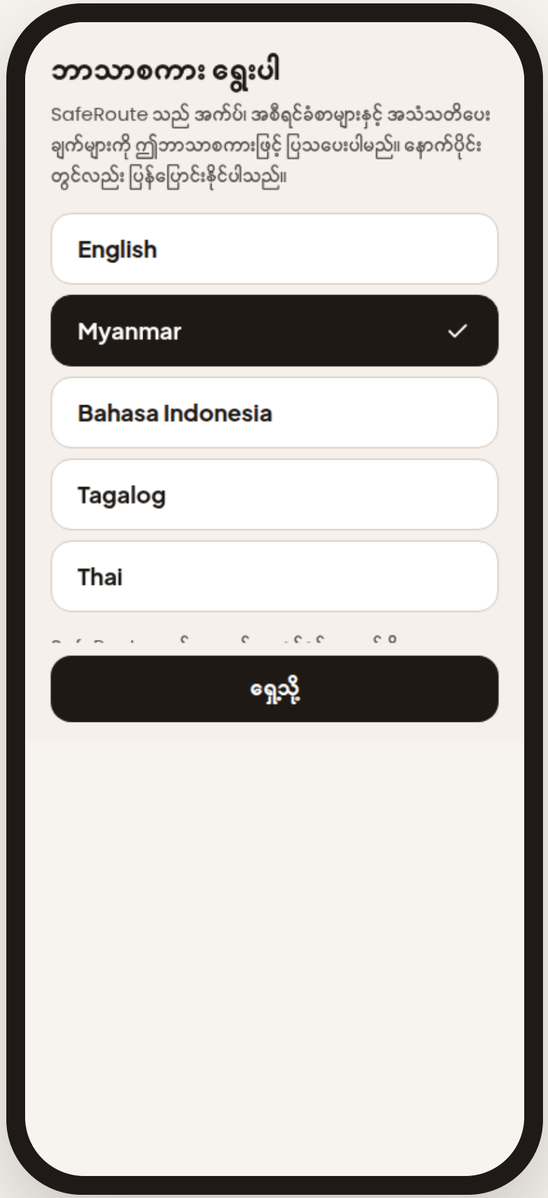

Made for a reader in her own language

Language first. Setup starts with one of 5 languages.

Doll moods and a word meter. Colour never works alone.

Next step first, in the largest type, and spoken aloud.

Running today, ready to scale

TODAY

- Web demo on Firebase Hosting. APK by direct download.
- Stateless API. Cloud Run deploy is one script once billing is on.
- Text checks: 2.8 s median, 4.4 s p95.
- Cost limits: search only when a name appears, a 10-minute result cache, hourly limits.

NEXT

1. Native review of every Burmese string
2. Move the API to Cloud Run
3. A simpler Check page
4. More languages for the region
5. Pilots with migrant worker NGOs
